

Operations Manager

£28,000 (part-time, 18.75 hours per week)

About CFGS

CfGS is a national charity providing expertise in all aspects of governance and scrutiny. Since being established in 2003, we have established a long track record of supporting local government and the wider public sector, alongside the private and voluntary sector. We also work nationally, regionally and locally to influence and improve governance policy and practice.

Our passion is ensuring that decisions are made in a way that is accountable, transparent, and inclusive of others. We do that primarily by helping organisations to focus on culture and ways of working which mainstream good governance practice.

We are a small organisation but we play an important role in governance debates and events, including leading the governance review of Kensington and Chelsea Council post the Grenfell Tower disaster and promoting higher ethical standards following the collapse of Carillion.

Working with a small core team and a network of associates and partners we undertake research, policy development, consultancy and deliver training and events. CFGS is in a stable financial position with an ambition to grow the business.

About the Role

This role is central to our success. Responsible for managing all our back-office services, working closely with the Local Government Association who we contract to provide us with a range of finance, HR and other support services. A key outcome of the role is to ensure that we have a clear understanding of our pipeline of future work to be able to provide accurate information to management and the Trustee Board to support informed decisions about the future of the business.

This post is designed with a strong developmental focus. The person we are looking for will provide day-to-day support in running the business, carrying out business support tasks and will have the ability to lead the redesign of our back office in the future. We need someone who can think creatively about the operational management of a small organisation, develop realistic proposals for change and, in due course, put those plans into effect, with the support of the Chief Executive.

How we Work

CfGS is now an entirely remote organisation, although we try to ensure that team members come together in person once or twice a month at our offices in London. We are committed to flexibility, building diversity, and creating an opportunity for someone to learn and grow with us. The role is the equivalent of 3 days per week, and we are completely open to exploring how those hours can be delivered flexibly.

Job description

Job Purpose

The purpose of the role is to provide support functions for the Centre for Governance and Scrutiny; working with our support services provider to ensure the prompt issuing and payment of invoices, taking charge of regular finance reporting, and providing administrative support to the organisation's Trustee Board.
